SPEAR STORIES

Nick really wanted to work as a Personal Trainer but had to drop out of his training course because of personal issues.

"During Spear, they put me forward for a work trial at LA Fitness. As a result of that, I was offered a job as a Fitness Trainer and I am doing a Personal Training course with them too. If I hadn't done Spear, I would never have got the job I'm in now and that's had the biggest impact on my life for a very long time."

Marsel had struggled to find work and thought it would be really difficult to come off benefits.

"Spear helped me develop a great CV and interview skills, and my communication skills really improved too. I know how to talk to an employer effectively now and when they showed me how to apply for jobs, I found work as a Painter and Decorator. I'm now able to support myself and live independently."

Sophia had dropped out of uni and didn't know what direction to take.

"Spear was fun as well as productive and it picked me up when I was feeling a bit rubbish. Whilst on Spear we visited Banner Advertising Agency and at the end of the course, they offered me a job there. It's almost too good to be true – I am now working as a Receptionist and getting experience in all the departments!"

Louise knew she wanted to work with kids but didn't want to do a long course.

"Spear helped me grow in confidence because they encouraged me to speak up in the group. They set me up with a work trial at Little Cherubs Nursery. When they offered me a job there, I was so surprised, I couldn't believe it! I now work as a Nursery Nurse and they are funding me to do my qualifications too."

Byron had worked before at a betting shop but wanted to do something different.

"I came to Spear feeling a bit stuck and they helped me find some volunteer work at a Homeless Shelter. This gave me a great reference and then I found a full time job as a Care Worker. I feel really happy and I'm in a much better position now career wise!"

IF I HADN'T DONE
SPEAR, I WOULD
